Created and Directed by Pascal Rambert
In collaboration with Eric Mechoulan
Conceived at the height of the European economic crisis, A (micro) history of world economics, danced explores our collective economic history over centuries. Created with and circulating around the lives of anonymous, locally sourced performers - a ballet of raw bodies share their own histories in the larger history of economics - tall, short, young, old, of different ethnicities and ancestry on stage, as one community, to make meaning of a crisis.
A (micro) history of world economics, danced is co-presented by La MaMa, Performance Space 122 and the French Institute Alliance Française (FIAF)'s Crossing the Line 2013 Festival.

My September performance at Steinway Hall...

In September I performed with renowned pianist and composer Robert DeGaetano for a private function at Steinway Hall in New York City to celebrate Mr. DeGaetano's CD release entitled Journey of Passion. I sang selected songs with Mr. DeGaetano at the piano as part of a program of Robert DeGaetano's music. Below are some pictures from the event.
